Commander Nicolas Humphrey Nowell Wright RN, MiD

When he was 8 years old, Nick's father was killed aboard HMS Neptune in WWII. Sent to a Prep school in Dorset then, at 12 yrs old, to Gordonstoun School in Scotland, he delighted in all the sporting activities, learning to take responsibility, becoming a good team member, loving the sailing and the fire fighting, coast guard duties etc. He was well respected and became Guardian, or Head Boy, of Gordonstoun during his last year.

Nick joined the RNVR and began his National Service with the Royal Navy, when an opportunity arose to move across into the regular Navy as a Midshipman. It was the best time to be in the Navy – a couple of skirmishes (Borneo, Suez, etc), sanction patrols (Rhodesia, S. Africa), a few humanitarian acts (first on the scene to help the people of Zakynthos after the devastating 1953 earthquake) and travelling several times around the world. His last shipboard appointment was in command of HMS Chichester, taking around the world one last time before visiting Gibraltar on the way home. At the ship's cocktail party, he met Gerry and they were married 3 months later.

Nick came to marriage and fatherhood relatively late but proved to be the most thoughtful, kind, generous and enthusiastic husband and father. His four children were born in London, Northern Ireland, America and Gibraltar on his final tour there. These were during shore jobs, the most rewarding one being in Northern Ireland where, as Senior Naval Officer Northern Ireland, he was awarded a Mention in Despatches for his work in keeping the sea borders of Northern Ireland free of contraband weapons during the Troubles.

On retirement in 1983, Nick joined the Kennet & Avon Canal Trust as General Secretary, responsible for restoration of the Kennet & Avon Canal. Eight years later Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II came to officially open the canal in Devizes at Caen Hill, surrounded by thousands of happy boaters and well-wishers. Nick and Gerry set up Canal Breaks for Special Children taking disabled children and their carers for sponsored holidays on the Kennet & Avon Canal with the Bruce Trust's specially adapted boats. They did this for 20 years.

In the meantime, Nick moved on to the Cotswolds Canal Trust to get started on serious restoration, before moving with Gerry and the family to Norfolk. There he was able to sail all year round in his own traditional Broads boat as well as lead a working party for the Museum of the Broads and being active within the Nancy Oldfield Trust, taking disabled children sailing.

And, of course, Nick was known in Nether Stowey, over the last 20 years, not just for his model boat re-rigging and building a rocking horse for the grandchildren, but also for walking his black labradors. By the time the last one died, Nick was already suffering from a deteriorating heart, having had two valves replaced in 2008.

Nick and Gerry downsized, moved into the centre of Nether Stowey. They installed a stairlift and adapted the house for Nick's needs to keep him central to all activities and gatherings. Nick's resilience and determination proved to be quite remarkable. He bounced back against all odds several times until finally he slipped away in his sleep on the 7th August, peacefully at home,

Playing field update & 50:50 lottery winners

August, September & October have been bat survey months, taking us one step closer to getting planning permission for the new Stowey Centre building on the playing field. Before we can submit our revised plans to Somerset Council, we need the report from the ecologists, with survey results & recommendations, plus a low-level lighting plan. The original company that was going to produce the plan for us can no longer do this, so we are currently seeking details of other companies. As you can see, behind the scenes, the Trustees continue to slowly make progress on this project.

Thank you to those residents who support the playing field by taking part in our monthly lottery draw. If you would like to join, please contact either Jane on 732025 or Sharon on 732311 or have a look at the Lottery section of the website www.stowey.org.uk. It is only £2.50 per month (or £30 per year) & you have chance to win cash prizes each month, whilst creating income and evidence of support for the playing field, which is important when we seek grant funding.

Nicks Gardening Notes
November 2026

We have got four months of mixed weather ahead of us which we need to prepare for in the garden. Rain: avoid walking on/working the soil when it is too wet in order to reduce the chance of compacting the soil. If necessary, place a plank/board on the soil and work from it. I like raised beds which have the advantage of being able to work from the path.

Wind: check that stakes/plant supports are doing their job and, if necessary, cane taller vegetables such as Brussels sprouts. Frost: protect tender plants with fleece and, if necessary, mulch tender perennials left in the ground such as dahlias, salvias, etc.

Plants for free: it is an excellent month for taking hardwood cuttings of black and redcurrants, gooseberries and shrubs such as coloured stem dogwoods, willow, forsythia, flowering currants, roses and buddleia. The cutting is normally 200mm to 300mm (8 – 12'') long and taken from strong healthy new growth produced in 2026 and sufficiently substantial to survive the winter outside, aim for pencil thickness. Make a sloping cut just above a bud and a straight basal cut below a bud. Treat with hormone rooting powder (optional) and making a slit with a spade insert the cuttings into the soil to two thirds their length. If your soil is prone to poor drainage place some grit beneath the cutting. Alternatively, the correct conditions can be produced in a deep container using multi-purpose potting compost and placed outside in a sheltered position and ensuring that they do not dry out. Roots will be produced during the 2027 growing season.

Ornamentals: as mentioned above autumn and winter winds can disturb the base of taller bush roses and reducing them in height prior to their main pruning in late February will help prevent wind rock. Herbaceous perennials can be tidied up and some grasses but remember good quality flower-heads and seed pods can look very attractive throughout the winter especially on frosty mornings.
Leaves should be raked up and turned into valuable leaf mould. This can be done by stacking them in a wire netting enclosure and occasionally turning them or putting them in black bin bags with some moisture and once tied pierce the bag with a fork. Running the rotary mower over them first creates greater surface area and speeds up decomposition.
Bulb planting: this is a good time to get tulips and hyacinths planted either in the soil or in containers (perforated pond containers are particularly good) which can then be plunged into the ground and lifted out after flowering. This helps prevent the prongs of the fork damaging bulbs. Plus, of course, planting up ornamental containers for display.
Five plants for seasonal interest: bark -Acer griseum and Betula utilis var. jaquemontii, both are ideal for a specimen tree, scent - Elaeagnus x ebbingei 'Gilt Edge', berries – Pyracantha 'Watereri' and a grass with winter flower heads - Miscanthus sinensis.

The greenhouse: this can be cleared, cleaned thoroughly, and prepared for winter. Why not try some winter lettuce/salad leaves? Winter Gem is an excellent small cos variety and can be planted either in the soil or in gro-bags. Also try three or four well rooted strawberry runners which can be planted in a gro-bag or container and these will produce early strawberries in 2027.

The vegetable plot: press on with the winter digging provided the ground conditions are not too wet. This allows as much time as possible for frosts to help break down the clods of soil in advance of sowing/planting next year. No dig beds should be cleared and a dressing of compost applied. Ensure that any perennial weeds are thoroughly removed. The earliest broad beans and peas can still be obtained from a November sowing using the correct varieties, i.e. Aquadulce Claudia for the beans and Onward or Feltham First for peas. Soil should be prepared as normal but avoid adding any fertiliser as a compact, hard (tough) plant will withstand the winter weather better. It is still not too late for garlic to be planted.

I will be playing with my Live looping setup which allows me to record live while I build up layers of sounds using violin, percussion, guitar and bowed saw.'*

Sebastian is fast gaining a huge reputation in the area as a multi-talented musician with a relaxed manner and huge natural charm. His music has its roots in South American dance music, European classical music and Celtic folk music. An evening to be remembered.

Stowey Arts Group

Children raise a storm over summer

Children from Nether Stowey Primary School were invited to enter an art competition, organised by the Stowey Arts Group, over the summer holidays and they chose the theme of 'A Thunder Storm' to paint, draw or model. There were 36 entries that revealed an impressive range of artistic talent and imagination from the School Years 3,4 and 5. Three judges from the Arts Group had the very tough task of selecting the gold, silver and bronze awards for the entries they felt showed most atmosphere and tension. Vouchers of £75, £50 and £25 for purchasing art materials on-line were handed out to the lucky winners in a presentation at the school early in October. All the children's art works are now on display in Nether Stowey Library and will remain there until Christmas. We thank the parish councils of Nether Stowey and Over Stowey for co-sponsorship of the prizes.

A Warming Bowl of Tuscan Bean Soup

Autumn is here—well, not so much during the daytime, with temperatures still reaching 20°C! But it's getting chilly in the evenings, so it's time for soup.

This month's recipe is an Italian bean soup. There are many variations, but this Tuscan-style version is hearty, simple to make and full of flavour. If you want to take it a little further, add a spoonful or two of homemade pistou at the table. The fresh basil and garlic lift the soup to another level altogether. Enjoy!

Tuscan Bean Soup

Serves 4 | Ready in approximately 45 minutes

Ingredients

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 2 carrots, diced
- 2 celery sticks, diced
- 3 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon tomato purée
- 1 × 400g tin chopped tomatoes
- 2 × 400g tins cannellini beans, drained and rinsed
- 750ml vegetable or chicken stock
- 1 sprig rosemary
- 1 bay leaf
- 150g cavolo nero or kale, tough stalks removed and leaves sliced
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- Grated Parmesan, optional, to serve

Method

1. Heat the olive oil in a large saucepan. Add the onion, carrots and celery with a pinch of salt. Cook gently for 10–12 minutes, stirring occasionally, until softened.
2. Add the garlic and tomato purée and cook for a further minute.
3. Stir in the tomatoes, beans and stock, then add the rosemary and bay leaf. Bring to a gentle simmer and cook for 20 minutes.
4. Remove the rosemary and bay leaf. Mash some of the beans against the side of the saucepan to thicken the soup. Alternatively, blend a couple of ladlefuls and return them to the pan.
5. Add the cavolo nero or kale and simmer for another 8–

10 minutes until tender. If the soup is too thick, add a little more stock or water. Season to taste.

6. Ladle into warm bowls and finish with the pistou below, plus a little Parmesan if liked.

Basil Pistou

Makes enough for 4–6 bowls

Pistou is a Provençal basil and garlic sauce, and a delicious addition to this Italian soup. Unlike pesto, it contains no pine nuts.

Ingredients

- 30g fresh basil leaves
- 1–2 garlic cloves, according to taste
- 4–5 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- A good pinch of sea salt
- 2 tablespoons finely grated Parmesan, optional

Method

1. Using a pestle and mortar, crush the garlic with the salt.
2. Add the basil leaves a little at a time and pound into a paste.
3. Gradually work in the olive oil until you have a thick, spoonable sauce. Stir in the Parmesan if using. Alternatively, briefly pulse everything in a small food processor.

Add a generous teaspoon of pistou to each bowl and swirl it through, adding more to taste. Avoid boiling the soup after adding it, to preserve the fresh basil flavour.

For an even heartier, ribollita-style soup, stir in two thick slices of torn stale rustic bread during the final five minutes of cooking, adding extra stock if needed. The soup is particularly good reheated the following day—just add the pistou when serving.

Building the backbone of the steam system

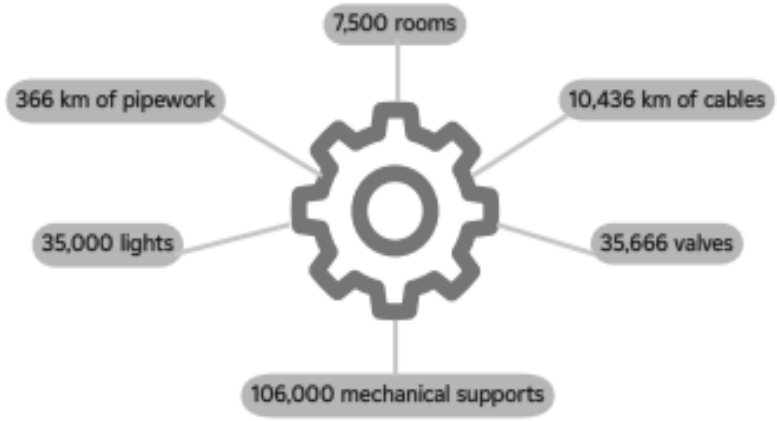

A major milestone has been achieved in the second Safeguard Building with the completion of 14 reinforced concrete supports for the future steam and feedwater pipes. The achievement clears the way for installation of the pipework that will connect the reactor and turbine buildings, marking an important transition from construction to equipment installation as the project continues to take shape.

Big Facts

- There are 14 whip restraints visible on the external wall
- Each restraint is about five metres long, nearly six metres high, and one and a half metres wide.
- In the unlikely event of an earthquake, they'll hold the pipework so it doesn't rupture or become overloaded by pressure waves in the water and steam.

Letter from the Rector

Dear Friends

As we arrive in this new month, our minds might be thinking that Christmas isn't far away, and if we are in any doubt the shops remind us!

November is a busy month for the Church, with our All Souls services in Nether Stowey, Goathurst and Kilve all at 3:30pm on Sunday 1st November. This is followed by Remembrance Sunday on the 8th and Armistice Day on the 11th when we remember the fallen in the wars along with those who sustained injuries. Then at the end of the month we arrive at Advent Sunday, the first of the four Sundays of preparation for Christmas.

It's busy! In the midst of the busy-ness, we should find time for God and recall what Christmas is all about. The darker evenings might give us a little more time for prayer and study. Please remember the Deanery Moment of Prayer - 8pm on Thursdays.

We might wonder how God finds time for each one of us and all our prayers. Our prayers aren't met with the response – 'God is away from his desk – please call back later', rather God always has time for us. God is far beyond our human understanding and is able to do far more than we can ever imagine - he has time. He might not answer prayers as we would like him to – but he does hear and he does answer!

So in the busy-ness of the season, please remember that God listens to our prayers.

Every blessing

Eleanor

OVER STOWEY
PARISH COUNCIL

The Parish Council met following the summer break on Wednesday 16th September 2026.

Items discussed included feedback from Somerset Council via Cllr Caswell who (with regard to broadband rollout throughout Devon and Somerset) communicated that Airband have gone into administration and new plans are in place with regards to rollout of fast full-fibre broadband. However, details and timescales are not available and are likely to be medium to long-term. Another issue highlighted was the upcoming online meeting relating to the National Scheme of Delegation and National Planning Framework. Cllr Caswell advised that councillors should attend as this will affect how planning applications are determined. The Clerk will be in attendance.

Highways concerns that have been raised included a request from a resident of Crowcombe about safety issues at Marsh Mills crossroads, parking issues in Quantock Lane which mean that large vehicles find it difficult to access (which includes agricultural vehicles, coaches and in the event of an incident or accident, potentially emergency vehicles) and the problem of large/long vehicles using the road from Crowcombe (via Bincombe).

The Parish Council has actioned what they can within their remit and additionally all the relevant agencies and departments have been contacted with requests for advice and support on all the above. Responses are awaited.

The ongoing problems with the leat wall and the road from Halsey Crossroads to the A39 junction will continue to be monitored by the Parish Council, particularly during period of sustained wet weather.

It is hoped the cattle grid on the Crowcombe Road will have been cleared by the time of publication, with other work being undertaken to prevent/reduce wash-away from the Quantock Hills.

The next steps re the cemetery and the need to look at options available for how to extend the area is being considered. These will be followed up by the Clerk.

A new Clerk has been appointed following a robust interview process. Over Stowey Parish Council would like to welcome Robyn Booth to the role, which she will start on November 2nd 2026. The existing Clerk will continue in a support role for a period of time to ensure a smooth handover and will also act as a trainer/mentor to Robyn. The Parish Council send their congratulations and look forward to welcoming Robyn at the November meeting.

There is still a small amount of money available for grants and if you represent a group in the parish (or possibly a neighbouring parish) and would like to make an application to the Parish Council for some funding, please contact the Clerk for further information and eligibility.

It is that time of year that the Parish Council ask that as the bird nesting season has ended, please could any landowner/property owners with a boundary that has hedging adjacent to or trees overhanging the highway ensure that these are cut back as soon as possible in the interests of safety to all road users. Thank you to all who have already taken action regarding this. If you are unable to find a contractor to undertake this, please contact the Clerk.

There was no meeting in October. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday 18th November 2026 at 7.00pm at Over Stowey Village Hall. Please see the noticeboard and website for details.

If you have any concerns or issues you would like to bring to the attention of the Parish Council, please contact the Clerk. If you provide your full contact details, we can then ensure appropriate and relevant items raised are on the agenda for the next meeting.

My war 1939 to 1945 (edited)

Doreen Walker

It wasn't long after we got back to London that the blitz started. Dad was working at the Cherry Blossom boot polish factory which was quite near to where his mum lived. She had an Anderson air raid shelter in her garden and, as the air raid usually started at 6 pm, it meant Dad didn't have time to come home. So Mum, my other Gran, Peg and I walked down to Granny Anne's house every night - it must've been a couple of miles. Poor Dad only saw his home at weekends. Mum, Dad, Peggy and I went into Granny's shelter, which was really only for two people. Dad made our shelter as comfortable as he could and made Peg and I a bunkbed each. Him and Mum just sat on a chair all night. The air aid went on for 12 hours until six in the morning then we crawled out and Dad got ready for work and we all went home to our house.

I remember one night Dad had gone out of the shelter to Gran's loo, which was in the backyard. He came back and told us to go and look at the sky. It was pretty quiet then so we took a chance. The sky was lit up, blood red, a lovely sight, but later we heard it was London on fire, and the docks in particular. We couldn't believe it. So many people died that night including a lot of firemen. I was never really frightened of the bombing. I thought it couldn't happen to us. We used candles for lighting in the shelter that Dad had made out of beeswax. We had a little saucepan that he made Cocoa for us in, it took hours to get hot but dear Dad did his best for his family.

The blitz went on from September 1940 to May 1941, eight months. There was one time when London was bombed every night for 57 nights in a row. There was a special spirit amongst the Londoners – we were all in the same boat and everyone took whatever happened to them on the chin. They were terrifying times, but I'm glad I went through it and experienced it all. When the bombs came whistling down and then the explosion, you couldn't help feeling "Thank God it wasn't me "

Walking to Grans every night took its toll on us. The blitz seemed to be over so Mum said we should take our chances and stay at home – which we did.

One night an aerial torpedo came down in the next street to us and part of the outer casing came off and went straight through our bedroom window, it pierced our bed clothes. It was about 1 foot long and 6 inches wide. If we'd been in our bed, I'm sure one of us would've been killed.

We had only lived in Antrobus Road for one week when a land mine fell on Kent Road. Land mines came down on a parachute. Kent Road just disappeared into a long crater. There were lots of people killed and injured and many just never found, blown to bits. We had our windows blown out and ceilings down and there was glass, roof tiles and rubble all over the streets. The whole community was shocked and there was a queer sort of quietness everywhere, but gradually things got back to some sort of normality and life went on.

I was now at Beaumont Park School and had to sit what was called the 11+ exam? I didn't want to pass as the schools you had to go to were evacuated to Dorset and I didn't want to go away again. Of course, I had to pass but begged Mum not to send me away and she didn't. I do remember at school whenever we heard on the radio news that one of our ships was sunk, we always had to sing "For those in peril on the sea ". Even now, when I hear that hymn, I get shivers.

There were some pretty awful things happening in the world. Dunkirk was one; thousands of our soldiers were fought back to the beaches of Dunkirk where they waited for little boats to come and pick them up. Boats of all shapes and sizes went across the channel from England to help our boys get off the beaches and then take them out to sea to get on bigger ships. The German Air Force bombed and machine gunned them and hundreds of them died on the beaches. My Uncle Frank was one of them and he remembered wading out in the sea until he was up to his neck in water. He was one of the lucky ones and got home. Later he was sent abroad with the 8th Army and went to Libya, Italy and finally Germany. He was abroad for over four years.

There was also a raid on Dieppe, in France, that went terribly wrong and over 900 Canadian soldiers died, 460 wounded and 1874 taken prisoner in the nine-hour battle. Also, Arnhem, where hundreds of our paratroopers lost their lives as the Germans seems to know they were coming and were ready for them.

England was facing a very black time and to crown it all the battle of Britain started. Fought in the air, mostly over southern England, are lovely brave boys, some only 18 or 19 years old, facing death every day. Our spitfires and hurricanes were up against the German Heinkel and RE 109's, the planes machine gun. I remember hearing a rat-a-tat-tat and looking up to the sky and seeing little silver dots in the blue sky. The sun shone on the planes and made them appear a silvery colour. We kids would go around the streets looking for shrapnel.

Churchill was completely right when he said his now famous words "Never before in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few". They were few in number but they're guts and determination to win made up for it. We owed so much to those dear young men who gave their all – never to have a wife, children or grow old. We must never forget the debt we owe them.
